FROM: INLANDBOATMEN'S UNION – ALASKA REGION

SUBJECT: USCG MEDICAL CERTIFICATES

Hello Members,

Regardless of the government shutdown and the agencies affected, the USCG is still processing medical certificate applications. For your information: If your medical STCW date is expired, you may still sail on the vessels EXCEPT for the KENNICOTT and the TUSTUMENA with your national expiration date. Use the information below to inquire about your medical certification application and how to submit it for processing.
