Re: Rule 22

Hello members,

In the past, members may have been told that Rule 22 of the contract, regarding overtime, does not apply to them because they are not in the deck department. This is not true! Every provision of Rule 22 applies to every unlicensed member of IBU, across all departments.

As always, any change to a rule needs to be discussed between the employer and the union, and no change has been made to our collective bargaining agreement at this time.

Rule 22.01 (D) Off watch overtime shall commence when a crew member is called out and the crew member shall be called at least thirty (30) minutes before work commences. When the deck crew is called out for mooring of the vessel, the actual time crew is called shall be entered in the ship's log for use in compiling proper time sheet entries. Crew shall remain on call-out status until released by the Master after line stowage and secured for sea.

The second sentence of this provision only specifies how the deck crew will record their overtime.
